Q&A Tip: All About Report Generation

Q: When are the reports generated? If I use Analysis tools and/or SQL scripts, do they occur before or after report generation?

A: Reports are generated after Analyses are complete. Queries, SQL scripts, and Analysis Tools are all finished before reports are generated.

Q: I just changed the values collected by the query in my job. Will my report still work?

A: Yes. If you removed columns that appeared in the report, those columns will not longer appear. All new columns added will have no effect.

Q: There was an error in my Analysis. Does the report still generate?

A: Yes, the report will still be generated if there are Analysis errors.

Q: I use SQL to manipulate the data generated by my job, but an error occurred. Did the report still generate?

A: Yes, the report will still be generated if there are SQL errors.
